Something Has Gone Terribly Wrong

Life is supposed to be good to us. When it isn't, something has gone oh-so-wrong. How do things go so wrong? Well, there's only one reason:

Our viewpoint about what's going wrong has been created and practiced to the point that nothing else can come in. Even the good that's there for us can't be materialized.

If you've ever wondered how to change the underlying momentum so that things will go right again, then this episode is for you!

3 Takeaways

- When we keep looking at what's wrong, life can't change
- We have the free will and choice to look for the blessing instead
- All challenges are swimming with resistance. Our job is to look past this illusion and change the energy.

Assignment:

One of my favorite things that somebody has ever said to me at a workshop is: "The law of attraction will prove you right. The question is, what do you want to be proven as right? Joyful outcomes? Or obstacles and challenges? "

So make a list of 10 joyful experiences that you'd like to experience. Because life IS supposed to be good to you!
